WHY WAR DESTROYED PEACE.

THE war in the East continues, with Germany reporting break-throughs and Moscow asserting the contrary.

No man knows what is happening, except that men are being slaughtered, the clatter of machines and the clash of mechanized armies may capture the imagination but it is human beings who are doing the dying.

That mankind has no better way to settle its differences is a reproach to all peoples, including those of us who live in the United States.

It is ours to admit that this republic refused to take any steps to line-up with peaceful nations in a plan to prevent war by making it a crime, punishable by concerted action of powerful, peace-loving peoples.

To say that the United States worked for peace, during the early twenties and thirties, because we foolishly disarmed and swallowed a lot of bunk about nations never using war as an instrument of national policy, is merely to remind us that, like the British and French, we were sucked in by aggressive, self-seeking nations.

It is foolish to talk of peace unless one is willing to serve, if necessary, as a soldier of peace. It is idle to sign non-aggression pacts if one is not ready to do something about enforcing non-aggression pacts. It is absurd to disarm without being willing to cooperate in the defense of the disarmed, if they are threatened by sudden might.

Peace is possible in the world only if those who want peace possess the power to enforce it. To leave peace to the mercy and decision of nations that worship the gods of war is as foolish as possible and yet that is what the democracies of the world did. Today they are paying the price of folly.

IN ORDER THAT OTHERS MAY PROFIT.

BAY St. Louis continues to keep its popularity along with Waveland and adjacent territory as a summer resort.

We note practically every house on the beach front, particularly Waveland, is occupied, and along the side streets and interior of Waveland there are no vacancies.

This section is especially popular with New Orleans people, who consider it the greatest of all family resorts. The water front extends far out, the water is shallow and bathing is all the more desirable. No dangerous depths.

A gentleman, renewing his subscription, writing to The Echo, writes: "I would not give Bay St. Louis as a summer resort for all the resorts in the world. The locality is in a setting of pine, oak and magnolia the like of which is found nowhere else excepting on the Coast. The salt air of the gulf combines with the pine laden breezes from the woods. It is sanctuary. It is haven for all who may come and enjoy."

It is not a bad idea to give Bay St. Louis always a boost when writing a letter. No letter should ever leave this community without carrying a message of the kind—in order that others may profit thereby. It is good advertising.

ENDING SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES.

CONVINCED that more persons are engaged in espionage and subversive activities in this country than during the World War, the State Department seeks new power to deal with enemies within our gates.

Established propaganda agencies have been hit hard, with the closing of German and Italian consulates, the clamp upon certain Nazi "information" bureaus and the outbreak of war between Russia and Germany. Scrutiny of mail coming from Japan reveals, however, that some propaganda material is arriving by ship from that country.

The democratic nations, enjoying their freedom, have mistakenly allowed totalitarian agents to take advantage of our liberal laws. Germany, Italy and Japan have closely controlled news and placed severe restrictions upon correspondents from this country. We should have done the same to their representatives.

No one imagines, for example, that Hitler would permit the United States to set up a propaganda agency, as a library of information, and send stuff to thousands of clergymen, editors and other public men. Yet this is what went on in the United States where liberty was so widespread that it served the ends of our foes.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME.

IN accordance with the wishes of the President of the United States, Governor Johnson of Mississippi has issued his proclamation designating daylight saving time, beginning at Midnight, July 31.

That is next Thursday night, Friday we shall find Bay St. Louis banks, postoffice, court, house, city hall, all public places as well as private business houses, operating under the new hour.

It will give quite a twist at first but in time one will fall into the habit just as we observe the present. Picture shows, according to the plan, will begin an hour earlier, and all owe and other things in accordance.

This is written with the definite view of calling attention to the new time system in order that one may guard against missing the train or going away or something else, that men, women and children may not work the new hour.

CONCERNING DREDGEBOAT OPERATIONS.

MUCH interest is centered on the operations of Hancock county-owned dredge boats working in front of Bay St. Louis and Waveland. Operations are proving successful and affords much satisfaction to the far-seeing minds that proposed the buying of a dredge for county and operating it to its own account.

Inquiry has come to The Echo from time to time relative to the reason why the dredge is operating from space to space and not along the entire beach in one continuous route.

The reply to this is quite easy and explains the wisdom of such line of work. It is well known the primary idea of purchasing the dredge was to protect the seawall, in addition to building of a wide sloping beach for the public to enjoy.

Hence the dredge is filling and piling sand where the wall is thought to be not of normal strength. Because of certain soil formation the walls of necessity must be protected, according to decision of engineers. Hence the dredging occurring in certain places is to protect the walls where weakest and to do so at the earliest possible moment.

Some people are of the opinion that the Board of Supervisors might be of the inclination to favor certain property holders, but nothing is more remote from the truth than this.

Another phase of this work must be corrected. And that is, where a new formation of beach is created that property is not that of the individual owning the property abutting. The Supreme Court, The Echo is informed, has decided that where the tide rises and falls is public property, that is, in other words, the owner cannot keep people from enjoying or using same.

The Echo understands property owners of land in front of newly-formed beaches, have ordered people off. We are authoritatively informed that this is not permissible. One may as well try to keep people off the water surface in front of private property as to keep them away from the beach.

Another query answered: The concrete "rail" along the seawall top that has been removed in places will be replaced.

TO RETAIN SERVICES OF SELECTEES.

PRESIDENT Roosevelt dispatched a special message to Congress Monday in which he urged retention of selectees until such time the present emergency is passed.

To relieve hundreds of thousands of trained men at the end of the year's period, would reduce the army not only numerically but its efficiency would be disastrously impaired and there would be nothing left but a skeleton of military organization for defense.

This would not be breaking faith with the selectees, for, as the President says in his message, there is more need of organized defense and the situation is more menacing than last October when the first contingent of selectees were inducted.

General Chief of Staff Marshall has repeatedly voiced similar opinion and has stressed the point to effect that selectees be retained, in addition to others to be inducted September 1st.

A more serious situation exists now more than ever and it behooves the country to centralize more on organization and intensive training. It is imperative, President Roosevelt agrees with the head of the general army staff to the effect he has sent his message to Congress in accordance with this thought. That his recommendations will be carried out by Congress there is no doubt.

All praise to President Roosevelt. The country is safe in his hands. Economically and in every other sense. His blacklisting some eight hundred firms in South America doing business with firms in the United States and Europe as stated in the daily press, is timely and far-sighted. This action is certainly to be applauded even though it has drawn fire from one A. Hitler.

'HIGHJACKING' AT PASCAGOULA.

LIKE Banquo's ghost, toll fee over the Pascagoula bridge will not down. At least, Gov. Johnson is not going to let it go without a correction of the apparent high-handed toll collection, after it has been repeatedly stated that the cost of bridge has been paid over and over.

Toll each way is 50 cents, a dollar for round trip. In face of the fact that there are no more toll bridges, save in rare instances, the collection is all the more obnoxious.

It is pointed out that the tunnel toll at Mobile is only twenty-five cents. The tunnel is new and has cost millions of dollars; is a matter of great convenience to say nothing of the seven miles saved and twenty minutes time reduced in getting across by a roundabout way.

In the case of the Mobile tunnel, one may have his choice. Either pay the nominal fee of twenty-five cents or drive around. But at Pascagoula there is no alternative. Either pay 50 cents or no travel.

Gov. Johnson points out that the bridge has been paid for many times over and that the collection of the excessive toll jeopardizes the success of this section of Mississippi. Motorists, he states, travel the other way rather than be held up.

This is not the first time Gov. Johnson has called attention to this "high-jacking" as he terms it. The Echo is of the belief the Governor is determined to relieve the public of this seemingly unjust burden. And we feel certain Gov. Johnson is just that type of man and official who generally accomplishes what he goes after—particularly if it is for the public good.

We note the New Orleans press has taken up the cudgel in behalf of the cause.

Double beach boulevard in course of construction along the gulf coast beach line is progressing rapidly. Much has been completed and is open to public traffic. There is more to follow.

This major improvement for the Mississippi Gulf Coast is in line with the program set by former Governor Hugh White and his Highway Department in carrying out better roads and better highways.

Boat and Dasher From The Pacific Coast.

Marie de France, 412 E. Franklin on July 1st. My companion, Mrs. Davis had been sick, but was much better. The Sea shore is the best place for all ailments. I have always had a fondness for the Sea shore. It's a cozy feeling, but that's natural. It's been very foggy until the 7th, then there was a burst of sunshine. Not many firecrackers on the 4th, naturally. But at night there were $5.00 worth sent off. On the 5th was another $5.00 worth sent off, from Balboa Pier. The pier was roped off near the shore.

Pleasure boats left Balboa wharf on time, to see the display after passing thru the Jetties.

Balboa Plaza is lovely with Southern California inland Counties, represented by boxed dwarf Palmetto palms, combined with pink ivy Geraniums. The hotel court nearby is a mass of blooming flowers.

A short distance from the Plaza, facing the ocean is the rendezvous ballroom, a noted place and well patronized, every Sunday and on week days, too.

In front of the ballroom, there is now an auto parking lot, which brings crowds of course. Plenty jitter bugs, too. The phrase "All of a Jitter" couldn't stand for them, because the young man and girl I saw, jittered as steady as old war horses. That's if they turn into bugs, no nerves—Real Jitter Bugs!

Californians love dancing and do it well. In all large towns here, there's always a hall for "dancing."

On the other side of the Plaza is an Art Gallery. Pictures large and small. Landscapes especially, but other subjects also. I liked the landscape best.

In the center between the shore and wharf is a circle enclosing the American flag. A steel cord strikes the pole which is held in a musical note is heard for some distance, especially when the wind is Southwesterly. The wharf curves up, only a small green line is seen of the building at the end.

From the Sea Coast Echo of July 1st, I first learned of the death of my sister-in-law, Mrs. James McConnell, at 1327 Webster street New Orleans.

It was unexpected to me—a sweet person indeed had gone to a better place. I had heard she was sick, but not so bad as that.

I hear the Ocean calling. What does it say, be good? No, run, far, far away!

The weather is not here, but the Sea tempests the heat. There are a great many motorboats, sailboats, pleasure boats in Balboa Bay. There is fishing on the pier. But Newport Beach is the great fishing center. Fishing boats leave on schedule of departure and return at the Newport Beach wharf. A low stone parapet is built on the wharf instead of a railing, for convenience when fishing. On the shore fishermen's skiffs are drawn up near benches, and the catch is sold there. A large tourist camp occupies part of the Newport Bay Beach. There is even a larger one at Huntington Beach.

Balboa has a fine bowling alley, a pool room and other forms of entertainment, as the Fun Zone, Penny Arcade, photograph galleries, and drug stores open to the public with seats for ice cream outside and numerous magazines. There are many grills and restaurants.

There are two bus lines that start at the same time. One at Santa Ana, by way of Huntington Beach, the other to Long Beach and then Los Angeles. Both Newport Beach and Balboa have wonderful beaches of sand but the hungry breakers prevent much surf bathing. The bay has a bathing beach and platform. Also several islands—Lido Harbor, Newport and others. A large ferry crosses constantly between Balboa and Balboa Island.

The snow-bird races are small sailboats that sail from Balboa Bay thru the jetties to the stake boat by Balboa pier and race to Newport Beach and back for prizes.

The best of all to lie on the sand until you are real sleepy and then go home and have a good nap—and you too, I mean, get the nap.

I found a large rusty fish knife between Balboa and the jetties. W. G. Co. Village Blacksmith, Wis., was on the steel blade.

The jetties are breaker waters, built with huge granite extending into the ocean. Across the outlet are the Del Ray Hills and Laguna Beach with its background of mountains. There are many fine houses between the ocean and Balboa. I was informed that Dick Powell owns a place there.

Not many pretty shells found now along the shore. A strong wind or storm is necessary.

Some of the large boats at the Balboa Bay wharf are Magic Isle, pleasure boat.

It makes a trip to the jetties, also a second one with a flashlight at night. The Dolphin, is a fishing boat.

The Jennie Lee and the Dixie Lee, are large fishing boats, and leave at 6 a.m. on Sunday, and holidays. Week days at 9 a.m.

Because she has not yet fully recovered from her recent illness, Betty Davis needs a trained nurse on the set, which she appears in. The picture is "The Little Foxes" and is being made at MGM. It is expected to be ready for release in the near future.

Hollywood Echoes.

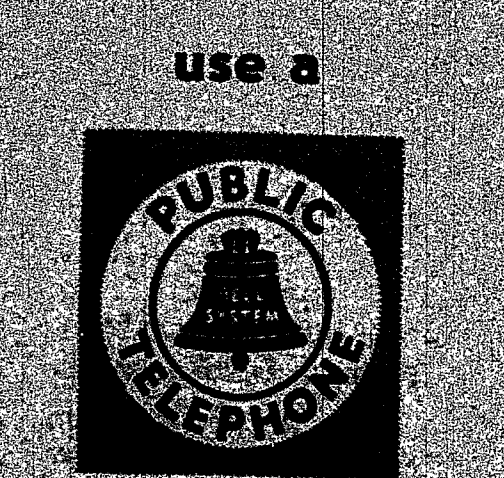

AMONG the unsung heroes and heroines of Hollywood, one surely should include the stunt men and women who risk their lives, oftentimes performing difficult stunts, for which they get no credit and little pay.

Frances Farmer, who only a few years back was a usher in a Seattle movie theater, is back in Hollywood after doing a stunt on Broadway. The beautiful young actress is at present costarring with the "great" John Barrymore.

Johnny Weissmuller has played only one role during his ten years on the Metro payroll—that of Tarzan.

Blindman's Buff
THIS GAME WAS PLAYED BY ADULTS IN ANCIENT TIMES, FROM PEASANTS TO PRIME MINISTERS AND KINGS. IN VARIOUS COUNTRIES IT HAS BEEN CALLED "BLIND COW" AND "BLIND GOAT". IT WAS KNOWN TO THE GREEKS AND ROMANS.

Borrowing from a friend is like trying to touch him in Blind Man's Buff. See our Real Estate Department about a property loan.

He will soon begin work on his fifth Tarzan picture soon.

Patricia Morrison improved her looks and her chances for success when she recently shed seventeen pounds. What's the secret, Pat?

When Metro failed to take up Mary Howard's option, following her good work in "Billy the Kid," Twentieth Century-Fox immediately signed her to play opposite George Montgomery in their remake of Zane Grey's "The Riders of the Purple Sage."

Melvyn Douglas is one of the hardest working actors in Hollywood. He is working on his sixth picture in nine months, but you never hear him complain of being overworked.

Bette Davis has committed three murders all for the sake of the camera, though. Her first murder was in "Border Town," produced several years ago, in which she severed the garage doors on her husband and allowed him to be asphyxiated. Her second occurred in "The Letter," where she shot her faithless lover six times and her third happens in her current picture, "The Little Foxes," when she, in the role of Regina Giddens, allows her invalid husband to die by failing to give him medicine when he has a heart attack. It's all in a day's work.

Word comes that Mary Pickford plans to go back into the producing game this fall, with "Coquette," which she made back in 1939, as her trial balloon. Buddy Rogers, her orchestra leader-husband, is slated for a leading role.

Robert Cummings, the ingratiating young leading man who has been a stalwart figure in so many of Deanna Durbin's films, is the most loaned-out hero in Hollywood. While Universal has him under contract, he has been used in screen courtships at MGM, Columbia, RKO and Fox within the past year.

Abbott and Costello, those screamingly funny fellows who won screen stardom through their work in Universal's hit laugh film, "Buck Privates," are back on the screen in a new comedy titled "Those Riotous Buck Privates" in the Navy. The picture opens Sunday and Monday at Ortte Theater.

This latest feature in Universal's series built around the various units of Uncle Sam's military service is said to surpass "Buck Privates," box-office record-breaker.

In leading feature roles are such outstanding players as the three Andrews Sisters—Patsy, Maxene and LaVerne, Claire Dodd, Dick Foran, Butch and Buddy, Shemp Howard, and the Condos Brothers.

The picture was directed by Arthur Lubin, who so successfully filled a similar assignment in "Buck Privates."

Alex Gottlieb, associate producer on the latter production, did a repeat on the Navy film.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

CAUTION AGAINST POSSIBLE HAZARD

New Orleans, La., July 19, 1941.

Editor Sea Coast Echo.

Due to the fact that many are interested in the electric fence as an economical way to keep stock on or off a field, I would like to ask that you warn your readers of the danger of trying to make such a fence by connecting the wire directly to any 110 volt circuit. It is hard to believe that anyone would do this, but you may have noticed the Associated Press dispatch of the death of a lad in Vineland, N. J., from such a place. I have an electric fence on my place in Leetown community that operates with a "controller" hooked to a six-volt battery. This gives a shock such as you would get from an automobile spark plug, not pleasant, but very successful in keeping cattle from damaging my new planting of tung trees. Because many have inquired about this fence, I feared that some might conclude it was connected to a 110 volt circuit and might build their fence in this manner with possible tragic results. A warning through your newspaper that no exposed wire should be connected directly to a 110 volt circuit may be instrumental in saving a life.

Sincerely,
ROY SKINNER.

THANKS FOR TIMELY ARTICLE

Pass Christian, Miss., July 19, 1941.

Editor Sea Coast Echo:

On many occasions I have read with interest your very worthwhile editorials and many have prompted me to write you complimenting you on them.

The article you had in your last issue on the rumors of infantile paralysis in Hancock county and the Coast is certainly an article that should be of interest to every citizen on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Such rumors mean the loss of thousands of dollars each month to our citizens. As one of those catering to the tourist, I am confronted each day and have been for the past two weeks with persons stating they "heard" we have an epidemic here. Your article hit the nail on the head and if you have any connection with the New Orleans, Memphis, and other leading Southern papers, it would mean much to the Coast if you could send your editorial to them—also the report you received from the County Health Office. It will mean money in everybody's pocket.

Today I had three groups, two from New Orleans and one from North Mississippi advise me that they had heard such rumors and only after calling our County Health Officer did they decide to come down. We do not know how many do not take the trouble to make such a call. They stay at home or go elsewhere. You will be doing the business

Congressional Sidelines

Congressman Van M. Glavin

Retention of Soldiers in Training Camps

GENERAL GEORGE C. MARSHALL, the Army's Chief of Staff, is urging a revision of the Selective Service Act to permit the retention of the service of selected Guardsmen and Reservists for the duration of the emergency. The War Department has officially requested that such legislation be enacted in a letter from Under Secretary of War Patterson to House Speaker Rabin, saying that German successes have resulted from the launching of "an overwhelming force against an unprepared Army."

Mr. Patterson further said that when the Selective Service Act was passed last year, providing for the release of trainees at the end of the year, "the international situation had not assumed the very grave aspect of today."

General Marshall testified in support of the Army's proposal in a closed session of the Senate Military Affairs Committee last week. Much of his statement was "off-the-record," but in the portion that was released for publication he was quoted as saying that failure to pass the proposed legislation would mean that practically all military units would "break down" and that the Army would largely "melt away."

President Roosevelt, in expressing his approval of the War Department's proposal, declared that the Army will disintegrate if Congress does not extend the service of selected Reserve officers and National Guardsmen, and he has declared that the responsibility is squarely up to the Congress.

In spite of the insistence of the War Department and the President that such legislation is desirable and necessary, there is much opposition to the proposal, especially in the House. Senator George, Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has announced his intention of introducing a compromise measure which, though not making continued service compulsory for the selectees, would offer certain inducements which he feels would keep many of the boys in the service for an extended period of their own volition.

The legislation presented by the War Department also would remove the present 900,000 limit of selectees in uniform at one time. There has been nothing said officially as to what size Army the War Department plans in this connection, but General Marshall has indicated that a 2,300,000-man force or larger might be in view.

Daylight Saving Time

President Roosevelt has asked the Congress for authority to establish regional or national daylight saving time for all or such parts of the year as he deems practicable. The President has said that the need for saving electrical energy in the defense program varies from section to section and that a flat year-round national daylight saving time would be unnecessary hardships on the investments in power. After consultation with several of the Government agencies—the Office of Production Management, the Federal Power Commission, and the Interior Department—the President sent letters to the Governors of Alabama, Virginia, Tennessee, South Carolina, North Carolina, Mississippi, Georgia, and Florida, suggesting that it be possible they proclaim the necessity of establishing daylight saving time in their States and take appropriate executive action to place it in effect.

PRODUCTION OF A & G THEATER

TO A & G SUN DAY

A Few Romances of Colorful Pageantry and Dramatic Impact In Glorious Technicolor

Coming to the A & G Theater Sunday and Monday Bay St. Louis, Sunday and Monday, the outstanding feature film, "Blood and Sand," a 20th Century-Fox production.

The color, romance music and story of a Spain that is no more are featured in this lavish film presentation of Vicente Blasco Ibañez's all-time widely-read and thrilling story of the bullring and its heroes. Although its appeal is exclusively to the emotions, it is sufficient to great and will encompass so wide a variety of motion picture tastes that there can be little doubt that the offering is destined for unusually important patronage. The feature has romance, suspense, action and, above all, spectacle, reflecting throughout its long footage the unstinting financing and meticulous care which were devoted to its production.

The excellent Tyrone Power gravely faces the role of Juan, the matador, which in the silent days was a popular Valentino delineation, and must be credited with one of the most sincere and convincing performances of his successful career. Linda Darnell as his faithful wife, Rita Hayworth as a siren who lures him to his ultimate doom and a full half-dozen others contribute comparably splendid portrayals. Technicolor has never been more effectively employed, probably attributable to the varied and bright colors which fit naturally into the story's background. Rouben Mamoulian's direction reflects many deft touches and is one of the largest factors in the offering's surpassing quality.

Commander of 91st Engineers Battalion Visits Bay St. Louis Sunday

On Sunday morning, Col. Burlin U. S. A., Commander of the 91st Engineers and Major Bauer, U. S. A., 2nd ranking officer, paid a visit to the Bay. Their men had come to Bay St. Louis twice and so they wanted to see for themselves how they were treated. Their first stop was at the Seminary, a point of greatest interest to the visiting troops. The Very Rev. Joseph Eckert, S. V. D., Provincial, and the Very Rev. John Gasper, S. V. D., rector took care of the visitors. For two hours they inspected every room and the grounds with the thoroughness of the professional soldier. The greatest interest centered around the kitchen. The Colonel's specialty, ice cream, was on the menu. The Colonel's kitchen had to pass a close inspection and the verdict: "I never give 100 per cent to any kitchen. Only my dream kitchen will get that." But, Brother, I give you 99 per cent. Thank you, Colonel, thank you.

After dinner the two officers departed for St. Rose to visit their men. They had arrived the evening before under command of 2nd Lt. J. Goldstein and 1st Lt. J. Zuckerman, Medical Corps. Just at that time the mess sergeant was very busy preparing an extra good chicken dinner for his charges. The Colonel smiled. It smelled good and by all indications it would taste good too. Then the Medical Officer told him that in the morning they had baked ham and it had been the best baked ham he had for a long time. If the doctor says so even a Colonel will take his word for it.

In the meantime the 126 enlisted men were having a good time in the auditorium. They were dancing with the Bay's "Prettiest" and some visiting beauties from Slidell. The Colonel was pleased and he expressed his thanks to Fr. Holken for giving the boys such a good time. He made it quite clear that such kindness was well appreciated at headquarters. And in parting he remarked that he would have to send another bunch this Saturday. That would make 3 convoys in 3 weeks. No words could tell a better story than these mere facts.

Yes, the colored boys like the Bay. The dance on Saturday night, the swim at Sunny Bank on Sunday morning, the great crowd that gathered on Sunday afternoon to make them feel at home and to bid them adieu these are points that will form the most interesting topic for a long time to come. And the colored hostesses went out of their way to please Uncle Sam's boys.

In his official report Lt. Goldstein wrote "This officer wishes to express most grateful thanks to Reverend Father Holken who thru his wonderful co-operation made the trip a complete success. The men all enjoyed themselves thoroughly and cheered loud and long when told that in all probability they would be coming back to Bay St. Louis at some future time."

Well done Bay St. Louis.

RANDOM SHOTS

Quicker bit of excitement was provoked at about 11:00 p.m. Monday morning, when the city fire alarm broke the stillness of the wee wee hours. In a remarkably short time the department responded and were ready for any emergency. Our fire department remarked a representative by-stander is a "peach". It is efficient and prompt.

It appears the delivery man for the Continental Bread Company, had peeped in, with flash light in hand, as his custom every morning, and noted the store filled with what he thought was smoke. He hastened to a telephone, contacted Mr. Scharff, who in turn, turned in the fire alarm. The automatic starter of a motor to a refrigerator had become stuck, failing to release after the motor had started and "burnt out." The smoke came from this source. The motor was made useless and a new one took its place that day.

Owners of private homes who are offering "Rooms to rent" to the many visitors now in our midst, are indeed rendering a service to the community. The town, particularly during week-ends, is crowded, if not overcrowded, and admitting visitors, tourists and others to occupy the surplus space in our homes is a service not to be lost sight of.

Judge August Ruhr, who is a guardian of safety and rights of the people of Waveland, reports our sister report is crowded for full capacity. Within the past couple of years, easily over two hundred houses have been constructed in Waveland and now with the advent of gas and an adequate supply of water, it is easy to forecast what is in store for Waveland. Many a prospective resident has been turned away due to lack of gas facilities. Like it proved for Bay St. Louis, this will prove a boon.

Power restrictions have been lifted, according to a statement by L. P. Sweat, vice president and general manager of the Mississippi Power Company, and to an advertisement appearing elsewhere in this issue of The Echo. In an authorized statement Mr. Sweat says:

"A somewhat improved power situation resulting from the continuous rains with prospects of reasonable good river flows in the Southeast during the next few weeks, and the widespread adoption of daylight savings, justify us in temporarily releasing our customers from the voluntary power restrictions which were to become effective July 21, 1941."

Three major real estate deals are in the making this week; we are informed, but not given out as yet, it is reported because the prospective and potential purchasers have not as yet signed on the line. One is on South Beach, another on Union street, and the third is a "profound secret." The Echo is promising this bit of news for next week. There is considerable activity in the local realty market—buying and renting. If the reader wants to know how hard it is to procure a house, go out and try to find one for rent!

Both Hancock county and city of Bay St. Louis have official notices appearing in this issue of The Echo calling attention to tax-payers that revised tax-rolls are complete and open to public inspection. If the property owner is not satisfied with present assessment, now is the time to object and show cause in writing. When taxpayers go to pay their taxes they frequently rebel and wish the tax-collector to change their assessment. It is then too late. The time to know and not in the fall and winter during tax-paying time. These are timely notices and show fairness to one and all alike by giving time and chance to file objections, if any.

THE PLEASURE OF A GARDEN

Poem composed by Mrs. Frank J. Keiffer read before the Bay-Waveland Garden Club at its July meeting.

There's always respite from troubles in a spot that's cool and green; And nature lends her aid To make our lives serene.

A garden is not just a pleasure. But a solace for our woes. And one who would seek a retreat Would never have to go.

If each one of us would endeavor To lend nature a helping hand, And release our own little plot, A canvas that's simple—but grand.

For a most perfect formal garden with a fountain of pomp and show, But a garden that's really good, is a garden that's simple and true.

Power Curtailment Suspended Until September 1st.

Notice To Mississippi Power Co. Customers

EXCEPT for the greatly increased demands for power for defense needs, it would not have been necessary to ask for any curtailment in the use of electric services. Despite deficient rainfall for more than a year, we would have been able to supply enough current for all normal needs.

We regret the inconvenience which the necessity for power curtailment has caused our customers. Therefore, we are pleased to report that recent rains and prospects for further improved river and hydro electric storage conditions in the Southeast make it possible to suspend immediately the power curtailment program until September 1, 1941.

A factor which contributes to the suspension of the power curtailment program is daylight savings time in the Southeastern States instituted at the President's request. This will help conserve electric energy.

It should be remembered, however, that hydro electric storage reservoirs are still far below normal for this time of the year, and that the demands for power by national defense industries in the Southeast continue to increase. Consequently, it may be necessary again to request voluntary curtailment in the use of electricity about September 1, 1941.

Should it again become necessary to resume curtailed schedules you may be assured that they will be confined no longer than the needs of national defense demand.

Every person who during the past two months has helped, either by reducing use of service or by working nights and Sundays instead of regular day time shifts may have the satisfaction of feeling that he has contributed to the success of the national defense effort, which all parts of our country are making.

Such patriotic cooperation helps keep America strong.
